REFLECTION:

The Prayers of the Faithful at Mass represent a significant moment of the faithful. The General Instruction of the Roman Missal notes that in these intercessions, the faithful “exercise their priestly function.” That all of God’s people --- ordained priests, religious, and laity --- are given a priestly role is well attested in Scripture. We are “a chosen race, a royal priesthood” (1Pt 2:9), for Christ has made us “a kingdom of priests” (Rv1:5-6). One way our priestly office is exercised in the Mass is in the prayers for the entire human family. Jesus poured out his heart in loving intercession for the whole world (Jn17). We participate in Christ’s intercession in a particular way at this moment of the Liturgy.

The Catechism notes that intercessory prayer is “characteristic of a heart attuned to mercy.” If we are truly in tune with God’s heart, we will naturally want to pray for others. The culmination of the Liturgy of the Word is a fitting time to offer up these intercessions. Up to this point in the Mass, the faithful have heard the word of the Lord proclaimed in Scripture, expounded upon in the homily and summed up in the Creed. Now, having been formed in God’s Word, the faithful respond with the heart and mind of Jesus by praying for the needs of the Church and the world. Since the prayers are meant to be universal in scope --- for those in authority, for those experiencing various needs and sufferings, and for the salvation of all --- the intercessions train us to look after not only our own interests, “but also the interests of others.” (Phil 2.4).

During the Prayer of the Faithful, let us pray with earnest for the well being of others.

Catholic Catechesis:

The true nature of peace.

In his farewell discourse Jesus grants peace as his gift to his disciples. What kind of peace does he offer? The peace of Christ is more than the absence of trouble. It includes everything which makes for our highest good. The world's approach to peace is avoidance of trouble and a refusal to face unpleasant things. Jesus offers the peace which conquers our fears and anxieties. Nothing can take us from the peace and joy of Jesus Christ. No sorrow or grief, no danger, no suffering can make it less.

Through the gift and work of the Holy Spirit who dwells within us, the Lord Jesus shows us how to yield our passions of anger, fear, and pride to him so we can receive his gift of peace.
